95 Per Cent Of Community Chest Goal In Sight

Final Reports Of Workers Due Monday

First report meeting of the 1951 Community Chest campaign last night at the Penn-Stroud hotel gave a clear indication that 95 per cent of the budget required to sustain ten agencies for one year will be met by 5 p.m. next Monday, final hour set for workers to file complete reports.

Campaigners were warned that between now and 5 p.m. next Monday they face the task of completing every contact. William Wyckoff, campaign chairman, said that those who cannot make a personal appearance at Chest office in Stroudsburg Security Trust Co. building are to call the office . . . 2231 . . . with their report.

Basis for the indications the budget will be 95 per cent achieved were very optimistic reports from the county district by Mrs. Frank L. Patterson Jr.; East Stroudsburg from Carl T. Seor and Paul Delaria; Stroudsburg from Walter R. McClelland, Dee; Morgenthau for reports and Ed Lawson for industry. The Exchange club is directing East Stroudsburg's drive and Ed Williams is chairman of the Stroudsburg effort.

Mrs. Paterson advised that one section of Middle Smithfield under Mrs. J. Russell Custard has contributed 100 per cent and more money than was given in the entire township last year.

Dee Morgenthau's report on reports with 76 covered and many more to be contacted shows that gifts are already $1,100 over last year's from the same people.

Paul Delaria's report on his section of East Stroudsburg was followed by an outline of the drive at Hughes Printing Co., where Delaria said excellent cooperation by the firm and splendid work by the foremen have produced 600 per cent more money than last year.

Mr. Lawson said increases from industrial division, largely because of exceptional cooperation, run from 200 per cent to 600 per cent.

He called on representatives of specific industries who substantiated his report and went all-out in their praise for the work of Campaign Chairman Wyckoff. They included H. A. Garaventi of Art Metal; Bob Hellmann and Bill Schiele of Tru-Matic; and J. A. Groner of Stroudsburg Engine Works, which has gone along 100 per cent.

Mr. Lawson noted that Line Material and its newly erected employees' charity fund has already completed its drive. Total sum to be allocated to the Chest will be announced in a few days. Walter Peeney was toastmaster of the meeting. He presented Gerald P. O'Neill, owner of the Penn-Stroud, who gave the dinner without cost to workers or Chest. Mr. O'Neill's generous gesture was given very responsible applause and praise.

Jess Flory, Chest president, welcomed the workers before Mr. Wyckoff took over the meeting for reports on campaign trends. Mr. Wyckoff explained there are only five divisions, none of which have a quota, but all of whom are responsible for increasing the budget and its $20,000 increase for ten agencies serving the county.

Mr. Peeney introduced as speaker, Joseph Shutt, of Henryville who has set up and directed nationwide campaigns for such groups

Hellertown Man Killed In Crash

Easton, (AP)—A car that ran out of control on Route 611 and smashed into a shale cliff killed Earl D. Goldberg, about 37, of Hellertown, and injured his companion yesterday. State police reported. Goldberg, a Bethlehem Steel Co. employee, was pronounced dead at the scene of the accident, near Ferndale, Pa., about 15 miles south of Easton, by Dr. James Sullivan of the hospital staff. State police identified the injured man as a passenger in the car, Paul Ravier, 37, of Bethlehem RD 4. He was taken to the hospital with back injuries and a cut wrist. Police reported that the car ran off the right side of the road, made a looping curve to the left and hit the curbing on the left side before crashing into the cliff.

COMMUNITY CHEST CAMPAIGN'S first report meeting from workers last night gave a clear indication that the 1951 goal will be at least 95 per cent complete by the next report date, Monday, October 15. At head table of last night's meeting were Rev. P. N. Wohlens, D.D., Jesse Flory, president; Walter Peeney, toastmaster; Joe Shutt, Henryville, speaker and organizer of national campaigns; William Wyckoff, campaign chairman; Gerald P. O'Neill, owner of the Penn-Stroud and host to the workers at a dinner. (Daily Record photo)

Tanks Open Red Defenses

U. S. Eighth Army Headquarters, Thursday, (AP)—A 30-tank punch in eastern Korea yesterday unlocked two keys of the Red defenses for "Heartbreak Ridge" in eastern Korea.

In west Korea, other Allied forces stormed a ridgeline from two sides and won it in a day-long attack from Chinese Reds who had held on grimly for a week.

These successes, pushing the Allied lines deeper into North Korea, were scored while the Reds displayed an even polite willingness to resume the cease-fire talks they had broken off angrily.

The 50 tanks and thousands of U. S. Second Division troops made an eight-mile thrust in eastern Korea which raised hopes that the bloody battle for "Heartbreak Ridge" may be about over.

DPA To Allow Production Of 950,000 Cars

Washington, (AP)—The defense Production administration has settled tentatively on the figure of about 950,000 automobiles as the production ceiling in the first quarter of 1952—a cut of some 13 per cent from present output.

Officials disclosed that the decision was made yesterday. It revises earlier plans to cut production to approximately 800,000 passenger cars and station wagons because of the shortage of alloy steel.

Auto industry sources had indicated that they were confident that they could show that the supply of alloy steel would be better than many officials expected.

It was understood, also, that the CIO United Automobile Workers appealed by wire to the White House for an improved metal ration for the auto industry. The union has emphasized the prospect of serious unemployment in Detroit, which already is listed among the 22 cities having "substantial" unemployment.

At the same time, leaders of the steel industry submitted to Mobilization Director Charles E. Wilson recommendations for government moves to increase steel supplies.

Liaison Teams Meet Again To Fix Exact Site Of Talks

Munsan, Korea, Thursday, (AP)—Allied and Red liaison officers met again at Panmunjom today in an effort to iron out the last kink barring a resumption of the Korean cease-fire talks at a new compromise site.

The meeting opened shortly after 10 a. m. (8 p. m. EST, Wednesday), recessed at 12:10 p. m. and was to resume at 3 p. m.

The remaining issue was understood to be just how and when to settle differences over the extent of the neutrality zone.

The three Allied liaison officers, Marine Col. James C. Murray, Army Lt. Col. Norman B. Edwards and South Korean Lt. Col. Lee Soo Yong, went to the meeting by helicopter.

In Munsan, the five-man U. N. truce team waited in tents in an apple orchard for word to resume the talks.

Today the delegation issued a statement saying the exact site for resuming the talks, broken off by the Reds at Kaesong August 23, still was under discussion. "The site will be in the Panmunjom area," the statement said, "but its actual location on the ground has not been determined."

The delegation said "the site selected will be in no-man's-land approximately midway between the lines of the opposing forces."

Butter Prices Move Upward

Chicago, (AP)—Best grades of butter bounced across the 70-cent mark on the Chicago Mercantile exchange wholesale market yesterday. This placed the dairy product 6½ cents higher than a year ago and the highest since May.

Market observers found several factors underlying the butter market's strength. Partly it was in response to a seasonal decline in production.

But, they added, storage reserves of high quality butter are only about half what they were a year ago, and there is a continuing out movement from the storage supply.

Lovett-Dean Talks May Decide Issue

Washington (AP)—Top atomic and military officials held an unusual Pentagon meeting yesterday, stirring speculation that they might be restudying the old question of granting the armed forces general custody of nuclear weapons made by the Atomic Energy commission.

The conference between Secretary of Defense Robert Lovett and AEC officials, headed by Chairman Gordon Dean, was disclosed in a routine visiting list issued daily.

Defense department officials recall no similar meeting in more than a year.

After the session broke up late yesterday, the participants refused to say what was discussed.

The conference was arranged in the wake of a series of recent developments including: One—A report yesterday by a well informed government source that serious consideration had been given to the use of atomic weapons in Korea, but that on the advice of Gen. Omar Bradley it was decided to hold back because of improved prospects for a truce in the Far Eastern war. The chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff apparently made his recommendations after his recent hurried flight to the Far East for a first hand study.

Two—Public statements by Dean that the United States now has a "very impressive number" of atomic weapons. He said the point has been reached where "we can begin to meet the tactical (battlefield) needs of the armed services," while still building up the stockpile for long distance, strategic bombing.

Three—The possibility that, in light of these above points, President Truman may again be asked to authorize the Defense department to have custody of the bombs.

The present setup requires separate, specific authorization by the President for each transfer of a weapon from the Atomic Energy commission to the armed services.

Four—Indication that some Pentagon quarters feel there is public confusion over what types of atomic weapons are available now and how much their use could reduce the need for conventional arms and armies. There is concern over public statements by Dean and by Senator McMahon (D-Conn) of the Joint Congressional Atomic committee, which followed closely talk by high officials about "fantastic" new weapons.

The decisions cleared up all but three or four major disputes between the two houses on the tax measure, and the conferees confidently predicted a final agreement today.

There were strong indications that the personal tax rate agreed on was neither the 12½ per cent boost voted by the House for most taxpayers, nor the 11 per cent general rise favored by the Senate.

Rose, Wife Said To Have Split

New York (AP)—Broadway showman Billy Rose and his wife, shapely swimmer Eleanor Holm, have split and a divorce is "definite," the New York Journal American said yesterday.

Rose last appeared in the news when blonde Joyce Mathews, 31, divorced wife of TV comic Milton Berle, slashed her wrists in Rose's swanky penthouse apartment atop the Ziegfeld theater last July 15.

Neither the showman nor his wife was available for comment on the divorce report. Rose, 50, and Miss Holm, 37, avoided Manhattan nightspots after the penthouse episode and lived quietly at their Mt. Kisco Estate, "Roseholm." Friends thought all was serene until yesterday's report that they had separated.

Elderly Woman's Pipe Starts Fire In Bureau Drawer

Syracuse, N. Y., (AP)—Firemen blamed a 70-year-old woman's overheated pipe yesterday for a fire that damaged a two-story home.

District Fire Chief Burton Wright said Miss Bessie Washington had finished smoking her pipe and put it away in a bureau drawer filled with paper. Apparently, Wright said, the pipe ignited the papers.

HST Refuses Army Custody Of A-Bombs

Washington (AP)—President Truman was described yesterday as having decided in 1948 to keep custody of atomic bombs himself instead of allowing military control because he didn't want "some dashing lieutenant colonel to decide when would be the proper time to drop 'em."

The late James Forrestal, first secretary of defense, told of that in the "Forrestal diaries," the book form of which was issued yesterday by Viking Press.

The atomic bomb and the fight of the Air Force against the economy cutbacks of 1947 are given major attention in the latter part of the diary Forrestal started in 1944 while secretary of the Navy and which he dropped a few weeks before he committed suicide in 1949.

At one point, Forrestal wrote, he was so displeased by an address of W. Stuart Symington, then air secretary, that he told President Truman he (Forrestal) would have to ask for Symington's resignation unless he could explain "an act of official disobedience and personal disloyalty." Subsequently Forrestal advised Mr. Truman Symington had explained there were extenuating circumstances in the Los Angeles speech making.

Judge Pays Fine; Wife Pockets $8

Kansas City, (AP)—It cost Alex D. Peebles $20 yesterday to serve as acting municipal judge.

Taking over the bench, Peebles glanced at the list of accused traffic violators just transferred to his jurisdiction from the crowded traffic court.

The first name on it was Mrs. Alex D. Peebles, his wife, accused of speeding 42 miles an hour a 35-mile street.

Mrs. Peebles pleaded guilty. "A $12 fine," said Peebles—and dug into his own pocketbook. He handed a $20 bill to the court clerk.

When the clerk handed back $8, Mrs. Peebles put it her purse. That, she explained, was "a bonus for never having been arrested before."

Acheson Cut Off Supplies To Chiang In 1949

Washington (AP)—Secretary of State Acheson yesterday confirmed that he approved a proposal to shut off American military supplies to Nationalist China at a White House conference in 1949.

Acheson told his news conference the proposal was based on fears that American munitions sent to bolster Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's battered armies might fall into the hands of on-sweeping Communist forces.

And he said it originated with U. S. military officials in China—not the State department.

The Weather

Cloudy with occasional rain today and tonight; highest today 50-56. Friday rather cloudy with little change in temperature.

New York (AP)—On one tremendous blow by outfielder Hank Bauer, the New York Yankees won their third straight world championship yesterday and finally wrote fins to the incredible saga of the Giants, as game a club as ever was put together.

Bauer's wallop, a sixth-inning triple with the bases crammed, broke up a tight pitching battle and provided the Bombers with the cushion they needed to stave off a rousing ninth-inning rally by Leo Durocher's scrappers and scrape through to victory, 4 to 3, in the sixth and deciding game of the series at the stadium.

The tying run was on second when Sal Yvars, pinchhitting for Hank Thompson, drove a smoking liner to Bauer in right field for the final out of the titling contest. Bauer gathered in the ball carefully and gratefully and then sat down on the grass for a moment before he raced in to join his teammates in their jubilation.

A chilled crowd of 61,711 sat huddled in topcoats through a game which saved most of its thrills for the last. Not until that final smash by Yvars off Bob Kuzava, third Yankee flinger, could anybody have felt certain that the Giants would not produce another such miraculous finish as they did in the ninth inning of the last game of the National league play-off with Brooklyn.

The first three Giants up in the ninth—Eddie Stanky, Alvin Dark and Whitey Lockman—singled off Johnny Sain, big tobacco chomping reliever, to fill the sacks and bring Casey Stengel shooting from the dugout as though he had been stung.

In came Bob Kuzava, a portside, to pitch to Monte Irvin, most dangerous man in the Giants' lineup. Monte needed only one more safety to equal the World Series record of 12. But all Monte had in his system this time was a long fly to left on which Stanky raced home and Dark made third.

Bail-Jumping Red In Jail

Texarkana, Tex., (AP)—Gus Hall, fugitive Communist party secretary, started a five-year prison sentence here yesterday less than 24 hours after he was captured in Mexico City and shoved back across the border.

The husky Communist bond jumper, heavily guarded by FBI agents, was rushed by plane to the Federal correctional institution here.

The Justice department announced in Washington Hall would not have any further arraignment in open court. He was one of the four Communist party officials who jumped bail and fled from New York last July to avoid imprisonment for conspiracy to advocate the overthrow of the U. S. government.

The department said Hall was in Texarkana institution "for the time being." Whether he will serve all of his time here has not been decided.

The swift movement across the international boundary at Laredo, Tex., foiled an effort by the Mexican Communist party to have Mexico give Hall asylum as a political refugee.

He is 41. Hall and three other top U. S. Communists jumped $80,000 bail. They and seven others—now in the Federal prison at Atlanta, Ga.—were convicted of conspiring to teach and advocate overthrow of the government by violence.

Most Of Korean Churches Razed

Altoona, (AP)—A Korean minister told about 1,500 Sunday school teachers and officers yesterday that the Communists have destroyed 90 per cent of the 5,000 churches in Korea.

Speaking at the 89th annual convention of the Pennsylvania State Sabbath School association, Rev. Andrew Whang said about 500 men active in church affairs have died during the Red regime.

PP&L Reports On Power Situation

Charles E. Oakes, Pennsylvania Power & Light Co. president, in a release yesterday summarized the present and future electric power situation for the 9500-square-mile central-eastern Pennsylvania area served by the local utility. He said the situation was excellent here, capacity-wise, that new generating facilities added since the close of World War Two gave PP&L substantial reserves for the time being, and that the new unit under way at Sunbury power plant for completion for 1953 was also moving ahead on schedule.

The situation was not as clear, he pointed out, for the future. Increasing shortages of nickel, lead, steel, copper and aluminum may in the coming 10 to 20 months cause some delay in extending or increasing facilities planned for the years ahead. He warned that any slow-down in procuring such equipment could stab right at the heart of the defense program. "Too little power can mean too few tanks, planes, ships and guns for American armed forces." But, that with careful steps taken to keep power facilities adequate, America can continue to out-produce any nation on earth.

Mr. Oakes said that customer's requirements in the PP&L area have increased rapidly since the close of World War Two and are now being accelerated as a result of the speeded-up defense program.

PP&L's system peak demand already shows increases of close to 40 percent, over the high of the war years. In preparation for this, PP&L started a gigantic expansion program immediately post-war, which by the end 1955 will total well over $280 million. About one-half of these expenditures are for the expansion and reinforcement of the transmission and distribution system. The highlights of the power plant capacity expansion are the 150,000 kilowatts completed at the Sunbury plant in 1949 and the 100,000 kilowatt addition completed there in 1951, a 125,000 kilowatt addition scheduled at Sunbury for 1953 and a 125,000 kilowatt additional unit to be completed in 1954 at the company's new power plant site along the Delaware River.

These post-war generating additions because of the highly effi-

95 Per Cent Of Chest's Goal In Sight

as March of Dimes and Cancer Society.

Mr. Shutt expressed belief the local campaign will be extended by from 10 to 15 per cent.

Raising money for such agencies is big business, he emphasized, and Community Chests are the rock-bottom of the entire philanthropic idea in America.

Mr. Shutt said some $4 billions are raised each year for agencies despite competition from $4 billion spent for tobacco, $6 billion on horses and $10 billion on alcohol. "You're not asking for money," he said, "you're selling an idea."

Few of us realize, he pointed out, that for every $1 raised by Chest groups to support agencies, it would require $4 if these same agencies came under government support.

Taxpayers, whether individual or corporations, would have to pay $4 in taxes under government operated charity, instead of giving $1 to the present system of making these agencies effective in communities.

Mr. Wyckoff praised the work of Mrs. Ruth Berman, who directed agency window displays and distributed posters, chairmen and workers, WVPO and The Daily Record.

County Chairman Confident Of GOP Success At Election

Ben K. Williams, chairman of the Monroe County Republican committee, reviewed GOP chances for victory at the General election in November during a meeting of the Monroe County Council of Republican Women yesterday afternoon at the YMCA.

He expressed his confidence in the success of this year's state of Republican candidates.

Mrs. Walton Dietrich opened the meeting with a prayer for world peace. Following this, announcement was made of the 29th annual Republican women's council convention to be held in Harrisburg November 12, 13 and 14. Senators Robert A. Taft of Ohio and Everett Dirksen of Illinois will be guest speakers at a convention banquet November 13. Persons wishing to attend either the convention or the banquet may call Mrs. J. Russell Custard for further information.

Williams expressed thanks to the members of the women's organization for past services and asked their support in the forthcoming elections.

Mr. Williams then introduced the candidates for the coming election.

The first speaker was W. Adolph Rake, a candidate for county commissioner, who said the potential growth of Monroe county is tremendous. He pledged, if given the opportunity, he would help to make this potential a reality. In order to bring this about, Rake continued, all areas in the county should cooperate.

Amzi F. Altemose, also a candidate for county commissioner, urged the voters to support every Republican candidate in behalf of better county government.

Elmer D. Christine, candidate for district attorney, said all those who are dissatisfied with their government, either "national or local" should start "cleaning up" by voting the straight Republican ticket.

Other candidates introduced were Mary Emma Garcia, county auditor; for George L. Smith, register and recorder of deeds; for James Gould, prothonotary and clerk of courts; for sheriff, Victor Henning. All candidates pledged their support of and interest in better government for a better county.

Addressing the meeting were Sen. Montgomery Crowe and State Rep. John Shotwell. They praised the work of the committee and expressed their confidence in the current ticket.

Mrs. Floyd Bachman then read the candidates for Stroudsburg council followed by a similar reading by Mr. Williams of candidates for the East Stroudsburg council.

Enlistees May Specify Army School

High school graduates may now make enlistments for a specific Army school through the local recruiting station in the Stroudsburg postoffice.

Enlistments may be made for periods of three, four, five or six years with a three-year hitch the required minimum.

The procedure for obtaining appointment to Army schools has been greatly simplified. Graduates who wish to make application for training may fill out necessary forms at the recruiting station. These blanks are immediately forwarded to the commanding general of the Second Army. After a two-week waiting period a letter of authority is returned and the applicant enrolls in the school of his choice.

Full details may be obtained from Sgt. James J. Marion, recruiting sergeant for this area.

County Nurses To Meet Monday

Monroe County Nurses' association will hear Zella Kernes, prevention of blindness worker for the Monroe-Carbon district, at a meeting scheduled for 8 p. m. Monday at 621 Sarah St., Stroudsburg.

A large attendance of membership is anticipated. A program of first aid is to be set up at this meeting.

Francis G. Meredith, a candidate for councilman from the Fourth ward, Stroudsburg, was introduced.

Republican headquarters will open on October 20 at the Indian Queen hotel, according to Mrs. Bachman.

Mrs. Olaf Pederson acted as hostess chairman for the meeting with a committee of six serving with her: Mrs. Frank Kerr, Mrs. Charles Reinhart, Mrs. Walter Caulfield, Mrs. Irving Kiffin and the Misses Aimee and Lucie Girard. Cider and doughnuts were served on a table decorated with a Halloween motif. The centerpiece was a hollow pumpkin, filled with mums and fall leaves.

Archery Association Organizes With Kintz As President, Lays Plans For Deer Season

Archers of the Pocono area met for the first time last night at the Indian Queen hotel in Stroudsburg to form an association.

Purpose will be to boost interest in the ancient sport, and bring expert archers to the Stroudsburg to iron some of the curves out of local archers' shots.

President of the new group, named the Pocono Archery association, is Jacob Kintz, Stroudsburg.

Clinton Dehl Jr., East Stroudsburg, was elected vice-president;

Roy Heller, Stroudsburg, treasurer and Plimpton Berryman, Stroudsburg RD 3, secretary.

The group decided to hold regular meetings on the second Wednesday of each month. A special meeting, to which interested archers or prospective archers are invited, will be 8 p. m. on October 24 at the Indian Queen. The association's plans will be laid.

Location of a permanent range has not yet been set. A temporary archery range is located on the Kintz property at 1228 Dreher Ave., Stroudsburg. Membership dues are a dollar a year.

One of the immediate goals of the new association's members is to have at least one member bag a deer during the two-week bow-and-arrow hunting season which starts Monday.

Other members, all male at present, include: John Fisher, Raymond Catudal, Norman Transue, Al Bachman, Bernie Helman, Earl Hatten and Raymond Mery.

Signs have been erected marking the location of the grounds along the highway. Announcements were sent out to all residents of Pocono township with the cooperation of the Grange.

A pamphlet titled "Keep Pocono Township Clean" sets up a series of four rules governing the use of the refuse grounds. The area is open for use by township residents, Pocono Township schools, diner, restaurant and hotel owners in the vicinity. Custodian for the venture is Fred Kresge Sr., who worked with the township supervisors in making the project possible.

Humidifying Devices Put On Market

Various devices and types of equipment have been developed for providing humidity in connection with hot water and steam heating systems, says the Plumbing and Heating Industries bureau.

Some of these devices are used in connection with radiators or convectors while others operate independently of the heat distributors, the bureau points out.

One type of humidifying device takes the place of a valve on a low pressure gravity steam system and will discharge one pint of water vapor per hour at 1 pound steam pressure. This is said to be sufficient humidity for about 2000 cubic feet of space. The humidifier operates quietly and also performs the function of a quick-venting air valve.

Another type of automatic humidifier can be used in connection with hot water or steam-heating radiators. It consists of twin troughs which are concealed in loops inside the radiator sections. A constant level of water is maintained automatically by a float-controlled valve.

Also available is a unit especially designed for use with concealed convector radiators. It is made in 20 sizes.

Devices used independently of radiators vary from small units which can be moved from room to room to large cabinet-style units capable of humidifying an entire house. Most of these units have a fan which draws air in through a wet filter and then recirculates the air to the room. Besides adding water to the air, this type of humidifier also removes smoke and pollen and thus adds to the freshness of the air.

Wooden Blinds Add To Beauty

Although wooden blinds rarely have any purpose but pure decoration in these days of storm windows and insulation, they can do a lot for houses that need a touch of face lifting.

Fall, narrow expanses can achieve the appearance of breadth. Roofs that seem too high come closer to the ground in looks when matching blinds bring out the color by added emphasis. Homes with several wings and levels that tend to appear scattered achieve a closely-knit pattern through the use of window and door blinds. As well as serving to adjust spaces on the face of a house, blinds can add color to a home that may need just that much variation to step out of monotony.

Ready-made weatherproof metal blinds are available in a wide choice of colors or in flat white for the home owner's choice of paint. Latticed wood, louvered or paneled blinds can be purchased from most lumber dealers or easily built. They should be installed carefully to avoid damaging window frames or siding and painted with weatherproof paint. Natural wood blinds can be attractive, too, finished with glossy outdoor varnish or protected by a finish of rubbed-in oil and wax.

Painting Basements

If you intend to paint the walls and ceilings of your basement, it would be well to use a light-reflecting paint such as white, cream or buff.

THE BRETTON has a plan which can readily be converted into a basementless house without rearrangement of the rooms. The space used for stairs in The Bretton would become storage space and the heating unit would be placed in the utility room. The Bretton also has two convenient service entries. The rear entry opens to the rear yard and garage, while a side entrance is convenient for kitchen deliveries.

The central hall of The Bretton is wide enough to provide for a storage cabinet on one wall, divided into linen, coat closet and storage space for bulky household items. A coat closet in the vestibule and twin closets in each bedroom complete the ample storage facilities in The Bretton. High bedroom windows increase wall space for furniture.

The exterior of The Bretton is of frame with siding. The roof is dead level with pitch and gravel roofing on one inch thick, rigid insulation. The Bretton's overall size is 37 feet, 6 inches by 26 feet with a floor area of 977 square feet and 16,292 cubic feet. Without the basement, there are 9,525 cubic feet.

For further information about THE BRETTON, write to the Small House Planning Bureau, St. Cloud, Minn.

Questions And Answers

I am moving shortly and would like to know what color wallpaper to use in three rooms which open into each other. For the living room I have a light burgundy rug, burgundy divan, gold wing chair and a blue chair. For the dining room, a hunter's green rug and chairs with seats covered in a rose stripe. For the den there is a three-piece maple set slip-covered in a maroon, Nile green and gray stripe. The woodwork in all the rooms is painted white.

or drapes be better? If drapes, what color and what length?
B. B. Providence.

Draperies would be better than ruffled curtains with the Venetian blinds on the windows. A chintz with a floral pattern on a green background would be nice. Having the draperies floor length will make the windows look taller.

Our living room furniture is modern. The sofa and chair are covered in a two-tone gray with lime and maroon spiral stripes, an odd chair is in lime with maroon binding and the rug is a small leaf pattern in rose and maroon. What do you suggest for walls and drapes?
Cranston. W. D.

I suggest chartreuse for the walls and woodwork with the ceiling painted pale yellow. Maroon would be a good color for the draperies.

Is there some wallpaper we could use to make a bedroom appear larger? The furniture is mahogany. The bedspread is a bright green chintz with a bright floral dust ruffle in which red and green predominate. What would you suggest as colors for drapes and lamp shades?
M. S.

To make the room appear larger, use either a plain wallpaper or one with a small pattern. A soft green would be a good color, with the woodwork painted to match. For the draperies, I suggest a deep red. Lampshades could be eggshell trimmed with red.

Many Families Growing Up—Into Attic

Ingenious families in many over-crowded homes are solving the living space problems by growing up—into the attic. But in many dwellings attics are wasting precious space, serving only as hide-aways for old love letters or moldy magazines.

Well-planned renovation that provides good ventilation, insulation and lighting can convert today's gloomy attic into tomorrow's playroom, nursery, workshop, study or extra bedroom. Here are some suggestions for transforming what is often just a spider's playground into useful living space:

1. Extra-large windows in end walls will increase light and ventilation.
2. A sturdy handrail for the attic stairs is a must, especially in a house with children.
3. If converted into an extra bedroom, the attic can be made a self-sufficient unit by installation of a lavatory. Tile wall and floor surfacings in colors matching or complementing the room's decor, will insure sanitation and protect the lavatory area from back splashing.
4. Often a hot-box in summer and ice box in winter, the attic can be brought close to house temperature through roof and wall insulation.
5. A ventilating fan near the stairs will insure good air circulation.
6. Built-in furniture, including window seats, corner bookcases, desks and even beds, will save space, important in attics with low ceilings.
7. With tile wainscots for easy cleaning, durability and brightness, the attic or a partitioned section of it can make an effective nursery. Built-in tile covered toy shelves, cleaned with the swipe of a cloth, will simplify nursery maintenance and keep toys from cluttering up downstairs rooms.
8. If part of the attic must be a private warehouse, separate it from the rest of the area by a plywood partition. Small storage bins will prevent wrecking the whole storage area to find one article.

Keep Windows, Doors Painted

Doors, that are open in warm weather, frequently have both sides exposed to sun and rain, and should be kept well painted so that moisture will not seep into the panel joints and cause the door to fall apart. Likewise, window sash should be given special attention, as the putty around the glass deteriorates if not painted periodically.

Dutch Door For Nursery

A Dutch door for nursery, of which the lower half can be latched while the upper half is open, will remove a child's fear of being locked in, yet keep him out of mischief.

650 Churches Participating In Program

Mountainhome — Rev. Harold N. MacMurray, pastor of the Mountainhome Methodist church, has announced that the church will be one of those participating in the Philadelphia area evangelistic mission which is to start Saturday with a youth mass meeting at the Asbury Methodist church, Allentown. Rev. Dr. Hiram Weid, pastor of the Elm Park Methodist church of Scranton, is to be the principal speaker.

Following this, each of the 650 participating churches in the area will have a guest preacher for the services next Sunday, and for services every night during the week, except Saturday. Rev. Henry Miller of Alloway, N. J., will be the guest preacher at the Mountainhome church. Rev. Miller previously served charges in Trenton, Atlantic City and Bridgeton, N. J.

There will be special music at each of the services. The Tannersville Quartet will sing at the service Sunday night, and Bob Hilton of Stroudsburg will lead the singing at each of the services except on Thursday night, when Walter Sebring of Tannersville will lead.

Under the direction of Rev. MacMurray, the church has organized teams of visitors, who will call on those in the community who do not have a church affiliation, in an endeavor to bring to them the realization of the place the church can occupy in their lives.

Precision Marks Fire Drill Conducted At Parochial School By East Borough Firemen

It was 2:19 in the afternoon and the halls of St. Matthew's Parochial school echoed with the idly-fingered exercise of an aspiring pianist.

The pupils of the second grade were demonstrating their knowledge of color. The shock-haired, freckle-faced boy near the door had just colored a four-inch panel on the paper in front of him a fiery, glowing red.

Jay Snover, a member of the East Stroudsburg fire department, stepped quietly into the room, introduced himself to the sister in charge of the class, and explained the purpose of his visit.

Five seconds later the raucous voice of the fire alarm bell shouldered its way through the cool, contemplative rooms.

With a synchronized precision worthy of a highly trained group of dancers or a football team the pupils in the room formed a long, slender, constantly moving line. The halls filled with the noise of 267 pairs of youthful feet.

In a matter of seconds, the rooms were empty. At the end of the hallway the last fourth-grader had just come out of his classroom.

With quick efficiency he leaned back into the room, checking to make certain all the windows were closed. Then he shut the door with a calm motion of his right hand and disappeared around the corner on the heels of his classmates.

In exactly 60 seconds the building had been emptied and all pupils were in their regular safety areas.

Outside, on the sidewalk, Walt Arnold, a second member of the borough fire department, operated a 16 mm. motion picture camera recording the movement of the pupils from the building. The films will be developed and shown to the students at a later date when they will be asked to observe any mistakes they might have made during the drill.

A third member of the party, Charlie Van Auker, watched closely at the entrance to a driveway behind the school making certain no vehicles entered while the drill was in progress.

The children did an about face and stood waiting, quiet and attentive.

At a given signal the movement back into the building began. Curiously attentive eyes strayed toward the camera, still whirring mechanically, its glass eye returning their stare.

Soft, authoritative voices maintained order in the ranks as doors opened and the pupils disappeared.

Snover paused to compliment a student and his instructor on the precision of their performance. Then the door closed.

On the way back to the fire house, all three men agreed it would be hard to beat the cooperation the fire department has gotten from the schools in their area.

"Did you see that kid close the door after all the rest of them were out? And the way he looked back into the room to make sure the windows were closed." Snover leaned back in the rear seat of the automobile with a relaxed, contented sigh. "One thing like that—just one little thing that could mean the difference between confining a fire to one area of a building and letting it spread all over, makes everything worthwhile."

MR. AND MRS. Frank Bisbing, Mount Pocono, 50th wedding anniversary.

Frank Bisbing's Observe 50th Wedding Anniversary

Mount Pocono—Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bisbing, well known residents of this borough, celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary Tuesday night, Oct. 9, featured by open house at their home. More than 100 relatives and friends called and extended their well wishes and congratulations.

The Bishings were married on Oct. 10, 1901 by Rev. Mr. Clewell, a Moravian minister, at the home of Mrs. Bisbing's parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. Fred Haser, of Greentown, Pa.

They relate the humorous incident that at the scheduled time for the ceremony, the minister had arrived but the marriage could not take place immediately due to the delay in the mail which was to have brought the license. It was necessary for Mrs. Bisbing's father to make the journey to Hawley, a distance of 15 miles to obtain the license.

Although the marriage was to be a quiet one, by the time the young couple was ready to depart, many well-wishers were already at hand presenting the usual drumming which was customary.

Nevertheless the honored couple have enjoyed 50 years of marriage and have resided at their present location here for 49 years. Mr. Bisbing was a letter carrier in Mount Pocono for 18 years, retiring from the position in 1940. Mrs. Bisbing has been active in community organizations, including the Methodist church and its W.S.C.S., Camp 235 of the P. O. of A., and the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Pocono Mountain Fire Co.

They have four children: Ernest, David and Miss Cora, of Mount Pocono and Elmer, of Avoca; also seven grandchildren and four great grandchildren.

The Bishings were the recipients of many gifts, among which were several floral arrangements of gold mums and other fall flowers, also a large decorated anniversary cake which was shared with those attending this memorable occasion.

Old Friends Pay Visit To MacMurrays

Mountainhome—Rev. and Mrs. Harold N. MacMurray, of the Mountainhome Methodist church, were hosts last Saturday to a group of friends from Cheltenham, Rev. and Mrs. MacMurray were residents of Cheltenham for over twenty years before coming to the Poconos, and their former neighbors planned the outing during the "Flaming Foliage" time, and hired a bus to bring the group. In addition to those coming from Cheltenham, former residents of that place, who now reside in Scranton and on Long Island, also made the trip to Mountainhome.

A turkey dinner was served to the group in the basement of the church, and a count of noses showed a total of 44 in the party. After the dinner, the afternoon was spent in exploring the nearby countryside, and the perfect weather permitted the camera enthusiasts in the group to use colored film, for views of the trees in their wonderful fall dress.

Mrs. Harry L. Shinnen, organist of the church, played several numbers which were broadcast over the public address system of the church, and selections were sung by Mrs. Myrtle Miller Sunkin, one of the visitors, who is contralto soloist in a large Episcopal church in Philadelphia.

After voting to make this an annual affair, the group left late in the afternoon for the return trip.

Priest Gives Columbus Day Speech Here

Rev. Andrew P. Maloney, pastor of St. Raphael Catholic church Harleigh, former assistant pastor of St. Matthew's church, East Stroudsburg, urged the Stroudsburg Kiwanis club at the Penn-Stroud hotel yesterday afternoon to emulate the faith of Christopher Columbus as out of that faith will come great reward.

Columbus day (Friday) was observed by the club. John J. Cowley, program chairman, presented the speaker. During the course of his remarks, Father Maloney criticized tendency in this country toward Socialism and control by the state thus destroying the freedoms in life now enjoyed.

The speaker spoke of the great faith of Columbus and willingness to do things himself rather than have someone else, or the government, do it, declaring we might get many valuable lessons by emulating the great discoverer.

He spoke of the changed economy which was taking place and declared it had gone too far and could reach special vengeance on conditions as they exist today. Father Maloney told of a tour of Europe he had made when he met many social workers who wanted to know where America stood, where it would go to and how strong this country was and whether the strength could be depended on to meet the onslaughts of forces opposed to our system of government.

Father Maloney believed this country would be able to meet the forces determined to destroy the ethical principles of democracy if the faith of Columbus were followed. Columbus loved the song, "If we cast our cares on the Lord, He will take care of us," which the speaker advised doing today.

The speaker told of the attitude today to seek social security rather than getting a job, which means the taxpayer would do the paying. Columbus, he said, did things himself and was triumphant.

Young people today do not know what they want and should meditate severely as to what place they should assume to determine what America should be, the speaker said.

Announcement was made of the meeting next Tuesday night when Pennsylvania week will be observed. A goodly number of Kiwanians signified their intention of attending.

William V. Nixon invited the members to participate in the meeting at the Penn-Stroud hotel Thursday night, Oct. 18, when the Pocono Mountains Chamber of Commerce will climax the observance of Business Education day, when 200 school teachers will tour 10 industries in groups of 20.

Homes For Aged Must Be Licensed

Harrisburg (AP) — Gov. John S. Fine has signed into a law a bill providing for licensing of commercial boarding homes for aged persons. The law becomes effective immediately.

Under provisions of the measure, all persons operating such homes must now obtain licenses from the Department of Welfare after being inspected by a department worker.

The department is also charged with the job of enforcing the law and making periodic inspections to see the homes come up to standards set up under the measure. Penalties ranging up to imprisonment for one year or a fine of $1,000 are provided for violations of the law.

No Alibis For Durocher After Defeat

By Ted Smits

New York (AP) — Leo Durocher stoutly turned his back yesterday on any second guessing.

"I'd play the series just the way we played it if I had another chance," he said, his voice husky and his face taut.

"They're all champions in my book—all the Giants."

When everything was over, Durocher slumped down in his chair in the visiting manager's office under Yankee Stadium. The team that came from dismal last in the National league to win the pennant and battle the Yankees right down to the finish in the World Series was quiet, as beaten champions always are.

Durocher has been all charm this past week and he was almost that yesterday—but there was more salt on his speech than formerly.

"You can't hit a ball any better than that. Damn, I thought it was in there. If it had been a foot or two either way it would have been a hit."

Everyone understood he was talking about Sal Yvars' sinking liner that "Hank" Bauer caught falling to the ground.

"Those boys played like hell," Durocher went on. "They never gave up. But we couldn't get a hit when we needed one."

Spirit

"When the ninth came up (and the Yankees were ahead 4-1), they all said 'hell, we got three big outs, let's go out and get 'em'."

"They've had a great year. They're champions."

Could Monte Irvin have caught "Hank" Bauer's three run triple that broke up the game, if he had been playing deeper?

"Sure, if he had been standing right up against the wall. That ball was hit 400 feet."

What did Dave Koslo throw to Bauer?

"He had to come in there with it," said Leo. "The bases were loaded and the count was three and two."

Leo shrugged his shoulders. There was no master-minding, no second-guessing, no attempt to alibi.

One of the slowest to dress was Monte Irvin, whose 11 hits in the series came within one of tying the all time series record of 12 hits. As it was he tied the six game series mark.

"I was really trying to get one," he said. "I sure wish I could have gotten a hit early in the game. Then I wouldn't have needed to worry."

"That Woodling," said Irvin and shook his head.

Gene Woodling, Yankee left fielder, robbed him of hits Tuesday and yesterday with spectacular running catches.

Charles Stops Layne By TKO

By Fritz Howell

Pittsburgh, (AP) — Former heavyweight champion Ezzard Charles made the first big jump up the comeback trail last night with a technical knockout over 23-year-old Rex Layne of Salt Lake City in 2:32 of the eleventh round.

A winging right to the chin settled the rugged scrap, Referee "Buck" McTiernan halting the scheduled 12-rounder as Layne tried to struggle to his shaky legs as the count reached nine.

Charles, weighing 188 — the highest he's ever scaled for a fight—gave Layne a terrific beating in the last two rounds after a fairly even scrap up to that point. Layne weighed 195½.

Late in the tenth Charles clipped a right to Layne's jaw, knocking the Utah youth into the ropes where he pinned him while he flailed away with a barrage of rights and lefts. Finally Layne wobbled and went down, the bell stopping the count at eight. The Utah strong boy's handlers hauled him to his corner, and he came out groggy for the fatal eleventh, running into a series of head and body punches as Charles scenting victory, moved in for the kill.

End

Layne shook off his lethargy for one brief minute, but Charles crossed a right to the chin and down Rex went in a neutral corner. He was trying to get up at nine, but the referee stepped in and halted it.

Layne's face was a bloody mess at the finish, while Charles didn't have a mark on him.

Referee McTiernan was the third man in the same Forbes Field ring July 18 when Jersey Joe Walcott knocked out Charles to grab the heavyweight title. A disappointing crowd of 6,257 witnessed the interesting scrap, and receipts were $59,763.35—of which $25,000 was for the television rights. The promoters had expected a crowd of 15,000 and receipts of about $100,000.

The temperature, a breezy 52, helped hold down the crowd. Following the scrap, Charles said:

"That Layne was hard to beat. He's an awkward fighter, that's what he is. He's hard to hit with a left jab, but I finally got him with my rights."

Layne, who suffered the second straight layoff of his career—he was belted out in July by "Rocky" Marciano for his only other kayo loss—said in his dressing room:

"I don't know what happened. I guess I just got hit."

Roseto Takes Measure Of South Side

Easton—Roseto's Redskins struck through the air for two third period touchdowns here at Heil-Park last night to defeat the South Side Club, 13-7, in an evenly contested battle under the lights.

Both teams battled to a standstill in the first half, but the passing arm of Art Castellucci got the Redskins rolling in the third stanza.

The former Bangor High star passed to Bob Stephens, former member of Art Castellucci got the Redskins rolling in the third stanza.

Castellucci tossed to Joe Casciano for the second touchdown, the play covering 25 yards. Don Carbone added the extra point from placement on one of two occasions.

Only Score

The South Side Club of Easton managed to escape a shutout with a touchdown and extra point in the final period.

Roseto held a 10-8 edge in first downs and completed six of 17 passes, including the two that resulted in touchdowns.

The Redskins play at Newton, N. J. on Saturday night and are scheduled to hold a practice session tonight at Roseto Park.

Roseto's club last night featured Stephens, Casciano, Fullin and Pezzuto, at the ends; Dick Rose, Smith, Morris and Frank Finelli, tackles; East, Vito Schiavone and Decker, guards; Tom Scalfaro and Andy Poloni, centers.

EVERYTHING'S ALRIGHT, DAD—If this picture would have been taken after yesterday's 4-3 loss by the Giants to the Yankees, one would think that Leo Durocher's son, Chris, was showing his father hat he's still tops in the youngster's eye—win, lose or draw. The victory enabled the Yanks to capture the World Series title.

Life of Riley

By JIM RILEY
Sports Editor

Leo Durocher's spirited Giants set the stage for a history repeating ninth inning rally that would have carried them to victory yesterday, but some meddling individual changed the script and the National league champs finished second best to the New York Yankees, world title holders for the third straight year. Maybe it wasn't the script that changed at that—it could have been just the opposition that was different. The Brooklyn Dodgers and the Yanks are hardly comparable.

The stage was set with the Yankees on the long end of the count, 4-2, Al Dark on third and "Whitey" Lockman hugging second. There was even one out, as Bobby Thomson, hero of the final playoff contest stepped to the plate. Not a detail was missed, as even Monte Irvin had made the only out at that point, just as he did in the playoff. The only differences in the setup were that it was exactly one week later, the scene was Yankee Stadium, and not the Polo Grounds and the rival pitcher was Bob Kuzava and not Ralph Brauer.

Members of the Giants' rooting section that were hoping against hope for a repeat performance were doomed as Thomson fled out to left, scoring one run. However, the Giants never could even the score, as Sal Yvars' noble bid for a hit to right was plucked off the tips of the outfield grass by "Hank" Bauer, who was the right bower for the Yankees all afternoon. It was Bauer's tremendous triple to left, against a gale-like wind, in the sixth that broke up a torrid pitching duel between Vic Raschi and Dave Koslo, as the three-pley wallop, which traveled over 400 feet, cleared the over-crowded bases of three Yankee runners and put the home team out in front to stay.

Fourteen World Series victories in 18 attempts is a record that will stand until most of us have long departed from this sports scene. Three straight flags and series titles under "Casey" Stengel, the man who couldn't do anything right in the National league, is another remarkable tribute to the Bronx Bombers. Stengel, who defies percentages on virtually every decision, is making up now for all the years he spent under constant ridicule while piloting the hapless Brooklyn Dodgers and Boston Braves. Stengel, who may or may not return to the Yankee helm next year, has certainly turned in an about face and is currently riding the popularity express, with his fare paid for a long journey.

There isn't a follower of the series that can deny that it was once again the old Yankee Clipper, Joe DiMaggio, who led the Stengelmans to victory. Before Joe found his hitting tonic the Yankees were able to play the Giants on even terms, and certainly nothing better. However, when San Francisco's greatest gift to baseball unloaded a single and home run in the fifth contest, it was all over except counting the receipts. Rumors have Joe quitting next spring, but regardless of his decision, the Yankee Clipper will be remembered as long as the huge walls around Yankee Stadium stand in their present position.

However, even while the Yanks were taking another bow for landing the greatest title in baseball once again, people all over the United States felt slightly let down, due to the fact that the sentimental favorites, the Giants, had failed to continue their torrid finishing pace against the Yankees. It was Leo Durocher's charges who came from the stable to win the National league pennant race in the most thrilling finish in history.

The heroic finish of the Giants apparently has had its affect on Durocher, who no longer is the growling, roaring, raving pilot that he has been in past years. Leo has become one of the gang on his club and his urging, thanking, friendly ways have made him a favorite with fans, players and writers alike. This is a new position for Durocher and as far as we people on the outside looking in are concerned—it's a new Durocher.

Monte Irvin missed setting a new record for the number of hits in a World Series, but the outstanding Negro outfielder failed only because Gene Woodling robbed him of two safeties in as many games. The Yankees are top-dog once again, but the Giants will always be able to remember that their finish made the 1951 baseball season.

Yankees Take Series Win In Stride

By Will Grimsley

New York (AP)—"Hank" Bauer was the "pin-up boy" in the victorious Yankees dressing room yesterday but the big outfielder from Kansas City admitted he came close to being a goat.

"I almost lost Yvans' hit in the ninth," he said of the spectacular play that ended the game, giving the New York Yankees a 4-3 victory over the Giants and their fourteenth World Series conquest.

"It was a well-hit ball and I wanted to make sure I caught it. I scooted forward but lost it in the shadows. I didn't know I had it until I looked in my glove."

Bauer made a sliding, lunging catch of the well-hit ball, retiring pinch-hitter Sal Yvars with "Whitey" Lockman, representing the tying run, heading home from second base.

That ended the Giants' dramatic rally when they smashed Johnny Sain from the box with three straight singles and came within a breath of continuing their miraculous comeback.

Bauer also unloaded the bases with a three-run triple in the sixth, providing the winning margin of the sixth World Series game. "It was a fast ball, waist high," he said of Dave Koslo's damaging pitch.

Except for the change in feature characters, the scene in the Yankees dressing room might have been snatched out of the files.

The world champions took their fourteenth victory in 18 World Series without too much demonstration. They acted like a bunch of men who had simply completed another day's work.

"Casey" Stengel, who reiterated that he planned to return next spring and fill out a contract that has another year to run, strode through the room, elbowing his way past photographers and newsmen, to congratulate each player individually.

To each he had a personal word to say.

He paused at the corner where the "big man," Joe DiMaggio, was silently sipping a soft drink.

"We couldn't have done it without you," he told the Yankee Clipper, giving DiMag a fatherly pat on the arm.

DiMaggio was pressed for a statement of his future plans—he has said he may retire after this series—but he declined to reveal anything definite.

"I may not decide until next spring," he said. "I'll let everybody know then."

Pittsburgh (AP)—A physician ordered John D. Holahan, State Athletic Commissioner for Western Pennsylvania, to bed yesterday shortly after Holahan conducted weighing in ceremonies for the Ezzard Charles-Rex Layne fight.

FALSE TEETH

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Holds false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug store.

Indianapolis Dismisses Pilot

Indianapolis (AP)—Charles French, general manager of the Indianapolis American Association baseball club, yesterday confirmed the dismissal of Don Gutteridge as manager.

In Running

French said Willis "Bill" Norman, at present manager of the Wilkes-Barre club of the Eastern league, is among those under consideration to succeed Gutteridge. He added that other possibilities are "Birdie" Tebbetts, Charles "Red" Ruffing and George Stirmweiss.

The Cleveland Indians of the American league own the Indianapolis franchise. Indianapolis finished seventh in the American Association this year.

Snyder Leads

New York (AP)—Fred Snyder, rangy end who does the catching in the aerial act of the Loyola of Los Angeles football circus, is grabbing passes at a record rate.

Hot Pace
The six-foot, two inch receiver pulled down 11 last Saturday as Loyola filled the air with 63 passes in a vain attempt to outscore Florida, giving him a total of 22 receptions in three games. That's one more than Art Weiner of North Carolina had at the same stage of the 1949 season, when he tied the record of 52.

East Borough Firemen Plan Open House

Open house will be held tonight at 7 at the Acme Hose Co. fire house in East Stroudsburg.

Parents were invited to take children along to look over the fire-fighting equipment and chat with the volunteer firemen. Movie equipment will be set up and several comedies—for the youngsters—will be shown along with a film on fire prevention in the home.

Firemen See Demonstration

Extinguishing of fires by chemical means was witnessed by six Stroud township and Stroudsburg volunteer firemen at a demonstration in Newark, N. J.

The Fire Prevention week show was held at the Pyrene Proving Ground there. Experts showed how to put out gasoline, kerosene, magnesium, propane gas, and oil-soaked-wood fires by using pyrene and carbon dioxide gas, and also dry powders.

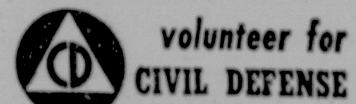

Present as representatives of the Wyckoff fire detail were Harold Albert, Herbert Predmore, J. A. Everitt.

Representing the Stroudsburg Fire department were James Andrews, Wilbert Heller and William Torzillo. The second group went on to make a further inspection of a carbon dioxide manufacturing plant in the city.

Torzillo said the trip was made to study the latest equipment and methods in chemical fire-fighting.

Practice FIRE PREVENTION

Prevent fires at home by making sure your heating plant is safe. Every winter costly fires are started by faulty furnaces, stoves and other heating plants. Some result from too much soot in chimneys. Others are caused by rusted or cracked pipes and fittings. Look over your heating system now. If your chimney needs it, clean it out. If the furnace pipes and connections are cracked and rusted, replace them. You can get additional training in home fire prevention through your local volunteer fire company.

Stroud Firemen To Inspect Public Buildings

Fire inspections of public buildings in the township will be started today by volunteers of the Stroud Township Fire department.

Chief Stanley Heller said the list includes such buildings as hotels, schools, factories. Purpose is to check not only for fire hazards, but to make notes on the layout of buildings as an aid to fighting possible fires in them.

The activity is part of the Fire Prevention week program being sponsored by the department.

On Saturday the company will join the Saylorsburg Fire Co. in an inspection at the county home at Kellersville.

The county grand jury's report recently recommended installation of an automatic sprinkler system at the home.

"But fire prevention doesn't stop with the inspections," Chief Heller added.

"Fall is always a hazardous month. The ladies start their fall house cleaning. That means cleaning fluids, kerosene, benzene, gasoline, and rags soaked with furniture polish or other oily liquids will be used."

Caution should be used, the chief warned, in handling the flammable and explosive liquids. And oily rags, he said, should never be stuffed back in cupboards, where spontaneous combustion might result. Rags should be washed, or stored in closed metal containers. Cleaning with volatile liquids like gasoline or benzene should be done in the open air, he said.

Other fall hazards to be watched by residents include burning of leaves and rubbish, said Chief Heller.

"If you're going to burn off a field, be sure you have enough help around to keep the fire under control."

In "winterizing" homes, the chief added, husbands should check for faulty furnace pipes, stacks and flues, make certain all are in good working order.

ADVERTISE IN THE DAILY RECORD — IT PAYS!

You don't have to be very ancient to remember when you could go into any number of restaurants and find a "blue plate special," with all the fixin's, for half a dollar... or less.

Today you can get a meal as good and as filling but it will probably cost twice as much. But don't blame the restaurant manager or chef for the high prices on today's menus. Blame the dollar! It just won't buy what it used to.

The dollar is making things mighty tough for us, too.

The cost of supplies and equipment used in the telephone business is going up and up, just like the cost of supplies and equipment for other businesses... and just like the cost of food and household supplies for you.

In spite of all this, we have been able to provide good, low-cost telephone service that continues to grow in value day by day.

Even if it should cost more, telephone service... in comparison with other things... would still be a big, big bargain.
